Traffic violations in August on Mysuru-Bengaluru Highway

Over one lakh vehicles caught but only 5,500 pay penalties

City Police enforce speed limit on Outer Ring Road

The Mysuru City Police have begun enforcing the speed limits on the 42.5-kilometre Outer Ring Road and are collecting penalties from violators. The speed limit for vehicles such as cars, jeeps and taxis has been set at 60 kmph, while buses and bikes are restricted to 50 kmph. Lorries, trucks and light goods vehicles like goods autos and regular autorickshaws can travel at a maximum speed of 40 kmph, with tractor-category vehicles limited to 20 kmph.

Policemen deployed at entry, exit points and toll plazas to collect pending fines

Mysuru, Sept. 8 (AG&BCT)- From Aug. 1 to Aug. 31, 2024, more than 1 lakh vehicles were caught violating traffic rules by more than 48 Automatic Number Plate Recognition (ANPR) cameras along the Mysuru-Bengaluru Access Controlled National Highway-275, with photographic evidence of infractions such as overspeeding. Yet, a mere 5,500 — just five percent — have paid their penalties.

Since the introduction of the Sectional Speed Control System on Aug. 1, AI-powered ANPR cameras have effectively identified motorists exceeding speed limits.

The speed limit on the 119-km stretch is set at 100 kmph (with a 5 kmph buffer).

When a vehicle surpasses this limit, the cameras automatically capture its number plate, and the data is sent to a Traffic Management Centre. There, cases are registered under the Motor Vehicles Act and e-challans (electronic fines) are issued and dispatched to the violators.

Vijayanagar's 50-ft. clock tower to soon join city's time towers

Mysuru, Sept. 8 (GA&BCT)- Mysuru is steadily transforming into a 'City of Clock Towers,' with a 50-ft traditional-style clock tower being built at Vijayanagar Third Stage at a cost of Rs. 1 crore.

Famed for its iconic tourist spots, grand monuments and rich heritage, Mysuru boasts stunning architecture, music and art. Notable among its attractions are the 75-ft. Silver Jubilee Clock Tower (Dodda Gadiyara) near Mysore Palace and Dufferin Clock Tower (Chikka Gadiyara) at Devaraja Market, which have long stood as enduring symbols of the city's cultural legacy.

These heritage landmarks continue to draw tourists, who frequently pause for photos, captivated by their timeless designs.

With more such towers rising, Mysuru's skyline is gaining a new architectural identity, further affirming its reputation as a city steeped in history and beauty.

Adding to this tradition are the 70-ft. Centenary Clock Tower at the Manasagangothri campus and the 38-ft. Big Ben-style Clock Tower at Madeena Mosque Circle in Udayagiri, built at a cost of Rs. 31 lakh. These modern towers, blending traditional and contemporary elements, have become landmarks, drawing the attention of both residents and visitors.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

THE BROTHERHOOD OF LAND-GRABBERS: While Chief Minister Siddaramaiah has come under fire over the alleged irregularities in the allotment of land to his wife by the Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA), similar charges have been hurled against each other by members of both the ruling and Opposition parties. Politicians are known to help themselves rather liberally by usurping plots meant for residential, industrial and civic amenity purposes. Many politicians are also known to get lands allotted in the names of trusts floated by their family members and associates. While some of these lands are used for purposes for which they were allotted, like setting up charitable institutions, there are also several cases of misuse.

These politicians are rarely exposed because they are bound together by the brotherhood of corruption. The government, irrespective of the party in power, routinely allots lands not only to treasury bench members but also to those in the Opposition. Though leaders of different hues are often found accusing each other of land-grabbing, nothing substantial ever comes out of the charges, since they are usually made only to blackmail their opponents into silence.

This malaise is not likely to end on its own as all politicians grab land. They may hit out at each other in public, but in private, it's "You scratch my back and I scratch yours". The only hope is for the Lokayukta to intervene and conduct an audit of all the land that has been allotted to politicians, their family members or trusts associated with them, and make the list public. This public naming and shaming should then serve as a trigger for investigations and hopefully as a deterrent in the future. The Lokayukta should also evolve rules to ensure that public lands do not fall into the hands of politicians on a preferential or subsidised basis.

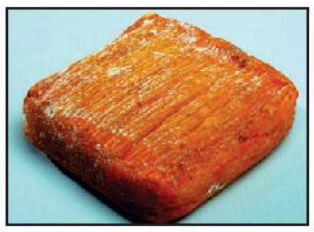
Vieux Boulogne – The world's stinkiest cheese



Paris: Limburger, Munster, Epoisses de Bourgogne, or Brie de Meaux are only some of the cheeses famous as much for their pungent aroma as for their taste, but the unofficial title of world's stinkiest cheese goes to a French delicacy called Vieux Boulogne. Two decades ago, scientists at Cranfield University north of London tested 15 of the world's stinkiest cheeses to determine which of them had the worst smell. They used human sniffers as well as a computer-linked 'electronic nose' to rank the odour of the cheeses and determined that Vieux Boulogne was by far the stinkiest.

Developed in 1982 by Antoine Bernard and Philippe Olivier, the square-shaped-cheese quickly became famous for its pungent aroma described by Cranfield University academics as a "mix of body odour and cow dung". It stinks so bad that it is banned from being eaten on public transport in France.

Man inhales cockroach in his sleep

Beijing: A man who felt something crawling up his nose one night experienced particularly bad breath for three days before discovering he had a cockroach stuck in his trachea.

A 58-year-old man at Haikou in China recently experienced a worst nightmare. One night, while sleeping, he woke up with something crawling up his nose and go down his throat. The following day, he realized he had bad breath. Even after three days, his breath still smelled disgusting, and he also started coughing up yellow sputum, so he decided to seek medical help.

The doctor removed the bug from the man's trachea, the area was cleaned of phlegm, so the bad smell emanating from it disappeared completely shortly after.

Bad printing of power and water bills, it is unreadable

Sir,

It's widely known that the electricity bills from Chamundeshwari Electricity Supply Corporation (CESC) and the water bills from Vani Vilas Water Works (VVWW) are fragile, with the ink fading in just 2-3 days. These bills, which are crucial for proving a citizen's residential address, are often required by government agencies like the Passport Office for processing passports.

Since power and water bills need to be retained for longer periods, the authorities should consider implementing the following suggestions:

1. Print bills using long-lasting, higher-quality ink and paper. 2. Provide online bills in PDF format for easy access and retention. 3. Include essential details like Name, Address, Account Number and Balance on payment receipts, so they can serve as both bill and receipt.

I hope the CESC and VVWW authorities will take these consumer-friendly measures into consideration and implement them at the earliest.

Fragmented families may lead to psychological issues

Karnataka Janapada Academy Chairman Gollalli Shivaprasad at valedictory of Folklore Dance, Singing Learning Camp-2024

Mysuru, Sept. 8 (SPN&DM)- Karnataka Janapada Academy Chairman Gollalli Shivaprasad expressed concern that children from fragmented families may face psychological issues due to loneliness.

He was speaking at the valedictory of the Folklore Dance and Singing Learning Camp-2024, jointly organised by Karnataka Janapada Academy, Regional Folklore Studies Centre and Mysuru's Ekataari Samskrutika Sanghatane at Kirurangamandira in Kalamandira premises here recently.

Highlighting that modern children are unaware of the value of close-knit family bonds with parents, aunts, uncles, cousins, and other relatives, Shivaprasad lamented that relationships are now sought through cell phones, a trend fuelled by marks-oriented education.

He noted that, in the past, parents would calm unruly children by pointing to the moon while feeding them, whereas today, children are pacified with mobile phones. This habit, he warned, alienates children from their families and society, leading to a solitary lifestyle.

Shivaprasad emphasised the crucial role of parents in raising children in a nurturing, collective family environment. He also acknowledged the support of Janapada Academy members Gururaj Mysore, Mallikarjun Kenkere, Umesh, and others, while pledging to promote folk arts to future generations.

Karnataka Janapada Academy Chairman Gollalli Shivaprasad beating the drum to inaugurate folk dance and songs performance during the valedictory of the Folklore Dance and Singing Learning Camp-2024 at Kirurangamandira (Mini Theatre) in Kalamandira premises recently as Kannada and Culture Joint Director V.N. Mallikarjunaswamy and others look on.

Kannada and Culture Joint Director V.N. Mallikarjunaswamy, in his address, stressed that folklore is the root of our culture and it is our responsibility to preserve it for future generations. He added that the Kannada and Culture Department actively promotes folklore through Rangayana and other Arts academies.

On this occasion, several folk artistes, including Nanjegowda, C.M. Narasimhamurthy, Nagesh Kandegala, Amma Ramachandra, Mahalinga, Lakshmiram, P. Somashekar, I.D. Lokesh, L. Vishwanath, Madhusudhan, M.C. Arun, Sinchana, Rashmi, Srivatsa, Pavani, Narayana, S.R. Pradeep, Ramesh Thayur, Pushpa, Siddesh Badanavalu, Sunil Nayak, Rajeev, K.K. Shyamala Kumari, Surabhi and Naveen, were presented with 'Janapada Danisiri' award.

The camp participants delighted the audience with numerous folk performances and songs.

Sexual assault on minor

Accused sentenced to 30 years imprisonment

Mysuru, Sept. 8 (MK&KS)- The city's Additional District and Sessions Court FTSC-1 Special Court, has sentenced a man to 30 years rigorous imprisonment and a fine of Rs. 1 lakh for luring a minor girl on the pretext of giving her mango and then sexually assaulting her.

On July 15, 2023, the accused had lured a five-year-old girl to his house at a village in Bannur Police limits on the pretext of giving her mango and had sexually assaulted her. Bannur Inspector T.S. Lolakshi, who had registered a case, conducted an investigation and had submitted the charge-sheet to the Court.

POCSO Special Court Judge Anand P. Hogade, who took up the case, heard the arguments from both sides, found the accused guilty of committing the crime and sentenced him to 30 years rigorous imprisonment and imposed a fine of Rs. 1 lakh.

The Judge has also ordered the fine amount of Rs. 1 lakh be given to the victim besides mentioning that the victim was eligible for Rs. 6 lakh compensation. Public Prosecutor K.B. Jayanti, argued on behalf of the Government.

Dereliction of duty: H.D. Kote TMC Junior Engineer suspended

Mysuru, Sept. 8 (SPN&KS)- Deputy Commissioner (DC) Lakshmikanth Reddy has ordered suspension of H.D. Kote Town Municipal Council (TMC) Junior Engineer for failing to maintaining the quality in road and drain works, thus displaying dereliction in performing his duty.

The Junior Engineer, who has been suspended, is K. Suresh. He was tasked with the Chief Minister's Amrut Municipality Scheme works (phase 4) but had passed the bill to the contractor without checking the quality of works. The Junior Engineer was instructed to go by the procedure by the Municipal Administration Director in a letter.

When the DC inspected the quality of the works, he came to know that the Junior Engineer had mentioned 75 mm tar road and 150 mm concrete road but in reality it was 55 mm tar road and 100 mm concrete road. The DC's order mentioned that the Junior Engineer without inspecting the quality of works had recommended payment of bill to the contractor.

The DC, under Karnataka Civil Services (Classification, Control and Appeal) Rules, 1957, ordered suspension of Junior Engineer K. Suresh pending departmental enquiry.

23,881 sq.ft. MUDA sites approved in seven days

MUDA's legal department accuses former Commissioner of illegally exploiting 50:50 ratio site allotment scheme

Mysuru, Sept. 8 (RK&BCT)- A new controversy has surfaced involving the already suspended former Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) Commissioner G.T. Dinesh Kumar, linked to the MUDA site allocation scam.

Dinesh Kumar

A note from MUDA's legal department has exposed that properties were allocated to select individuals under questionable circumstances.

In this particular case, an order was issued approving sites spanning 23,881 sq.ft. under 50:50 ratio within seven days of the submission of application. However, there is no record of receiving the application, according to legal department note.

Typically, MUDA issues an acceptance letter with a 21-day deadline to process any application submitted. In this case, no official record or information number was entered regarding the application's acceptance in the department that accepts applications.

Fast-tracking application

This suggests that the application in question was not submitted to MUDA following proper procedures. Records show that Dinesh Kumar fast-tracked this application in just a day and within seven days, an order was issued approving the sites spanning 23,881 sq.ft. under the 50:50 ratio.

It wasn't political or external influence that led Dinesh to expedite the application. The applicant, Syed Yusuf, son of Syed Jafar from Rajendranagar, Mysuru, is neither a politician nor a person of significant influence. Instead, the legal dept. note has revealed that Dinesh acted out of personal vested interests.

Compensation sought on Feb. 28, 2023

On Feb. 28, 2023, Syed Yusuf requested compensation for his 2.06-acre land in Survey Number 85/1 of Eeranagere village, Kasaba hobli, Mysuru taluk, which MUDA had acquired for a layout without officially following the land acquisition process. He sought compensation under the 50:50 ratio. However, there is no evidence that Syed Yusuf's application was submitted to MUDA's application acceptance department. The application lacks an acceptance number, meaning it wasn't officially registered, and there is no proof it ever reached the land acquisition department.

According to the legal department's note, the application bears no reference number from the land acquisition department. Once the application landed in the hands of Commissioner Dinesh Kumar, he responded immediately, presenting the file the very next day.

Approval on Mar. 7, 2023

The file swiftly moved through various MUDA departments, and just seven days later, on Mar. 7, 2023, Dinesh Kumar issued an order approving developed sites extending to 23,881 sq.ft compensation for the land MUDA used in Eeranagere.

The legal department's note has raised serious concerns over the swift approval of the developed land in a 50:50 ratio within just seven days. This approval was granted without registering the application in the acceptance department and without any reference number from the land acquisition department, raising red flags.

Questionable RTC document

While Syed Yusuf holds an RTC (Record of Rights, Tenancy, and Crops) for 2.06 acres of land in Survey Number 85/1 of Eeranagere, mentioning his purchase of land. However, there is no concrete evidence supporting his purchase. The legal department's note further questions the validity of his name being entered into the RTC.

Additionally, when submitting applications to MUDA, any photocopies of documents must be certified. Yet, none of the documents submitted regarding this land were certified copies, according to the legal department's findings.

The note emphasises that approving a site in a 50:50 ratio within seven days, based solely on uncertified photocopies and without verifying ownership, suggests that then Commissioner Dinesh Kumar issued the order in clear violation of regulations.

No verification report

If the former Commissioner approved the compensatory sites under the 50:50 scheme with such speed for the 2.06 acres of land in Survey Number 85/1 of Eeranagere for a layout without acquisition, the question arises: Which layout was it?

The file contains no verification report or details explaining which layout was developed or why MUDA failed to acquire the land in that particular survey number. The legal department alleges that Dinesh Kumar did not even attempt to obtain a verification report for the file.

Furthermore, the land referenced in the application does not match the actual sale deed. Upon review, the 2.06 acres in Sy. No 85/1 of Eeranagere is not registered to Yusuf in first place.

Instead, the sale deed shows that other sites — Survey Numbers 84/2 (1.35 acres), 87/1 (0.22 acres), 91/2 (1.15 acres), and 92/2 (1.18 acres) — are registered to Syed Yusuf alias Sabdu and Syed Saheb, son of Syed Abdul Rahim Saheb.

This inconsistency, noted in the legal department's report, reveals that the land mentioned in Yusuf's application does not correspond to the land recorded in the RTC.

Raghu Kautilya demands suspension of ex-Commissioner D.B. Natesh

Mysuru, Sept. 8 (BLU&DM)- Demanding the suspension of former MUDA Commissioner D.B. Natesh in the MUDA sites allotment scam, State BJP OBC Morcha President Raghu R. Kautilya has also sought registration of a criminal case against former MUDA Commissioner and other officials who colluded with him in the scam.

In a letter written to State Chief Secretary Shalini Rajneesh, Urban Development Department Secretary M. Deepa and Additional Chief Secretary of the department Umashankar, Raghu Kautilya said that the Technical Committee formed by the Government has given its report on Nov. 3, 2023. The report has shed light on the grave irregularities regarding allotment of sites on 50:50 ratio basis, resulting in a loss of thousands of crores of rupees to the State Exchequer, he said adding that the Government recently suspended another former MUDA Commissioner G.T. Dinesh Kumar for the scam.

Raghu Kautilya

D.B. Natesh

"The Government has suspended former MUDA Commissioner G.T. Dinesh Kumar in connection with the 50:50 ratio sites allotment scam. But the Government has not taken any action against another former MUDA Commissioner D.B. Natesh, who has been accused of illegally allotting about 10,000 sites totally valued at over Rs. 10,000 crore," he said adding that the Government seems to have spared Natesh.

"Natesh, acting on his own, has allegedly issued an official note allotting 14 sites to the wife of Chief Minister Siddaramaiah without bringing the matter to the notice of MUDA meeting and getting Government approval. Natesh has also issued allotment letters and sale deeds in respect of these sites in violation of all norms, which has resulted in a loss of crores of Rupees to the Authority," he said adding that the Government should take action against Natesh immediately without any further delay.

He also warned that he would wage a legal battle if the Government fails to suspend Natesh and initiate legal proceedings against him for having caused a huge loss to MUDA.

Land registered in applicant's name even before his birth

Mysuru, Sept. 8 (RK&BCT)- The MUDA legal department's remarks highlight an unbelievable discrepancy regarding the sites extending to 23,881 sq.ft. approved by former Commissioner G.T. Dinesh Kumar under the 50:50 ratio.

The land was registered in the applicant Syed Yusuf's name on April 16, 1934, yet, according to Aadhaar records, Yusuf was born on April 8, 1935. This means the land was registered in his name a year before he was born — an extraordinary and suspicious occurrence.

Although the sale deed for Survey Number 85/1 at Eeranagere has not been registered, it is noted by the legal department that the Yusuf mentioned in the sale deed registered under other survey numbers is a different person. The legal department note says that it is clear that the Yusuf who has now received the sites as compensation from Dinesh Kumar is a different person altogether.

In summary, the legal department accuses former MUDA Commissioner Dinesh Kumar of illegally exploiting the 50:50 ratio scheme by blatantly violating regulations. Currently, records of a valuable MUDA property measuring 6x9 metres, located at site Number 555/1 in E Block, J.P. Nagar 1st Stage, Mysuru, are available.

AT SANGAM CIRCLE

A relatively new addition to Mysuru's collection of clock towers is the one being constructed at Vijayanagar. For the past six months, a striking 50-foot-tall traditional-style clock tower, complete with a gopura, has been under construction at Sangam Circle in Vijayanagar Third Stage. Funded by a Rs. 1 crore grant from MLA G.T. Devegowda, this tower promises to become a distinctive attraction in the city.

The tower will house four large clocks, each measuring 11 feet by 11 feet. One side will feature time in Kannada numerals, another in Roman numerals, while the remaining two will display English numerals. These clocks, crafted by a Delhi-based company, are set to make the tower stand out as a unique landmark.

HOURLY CHIMING

The clocks will chime every hour, with the sound carrying up to 1.5 kilometres and their radium coating will ensure visibility at night. Additionally, automatic on-off electric lights will surround the structure, adding to its grandeur. This clock tower is poised to become an iconic part of Mysuru's skyline, enriching the city's heritage and tradition.

A lightning arrester will also be installed to safeguard the tower against natural disasters. Notably, Mysuru's large clock near the Town Hall, the Silver Jubilee Clock Tower, which once chimed every hour during the Maharajas' reign, has fallen silent due to neglect.

The new Vijayanagar Third Stage clock tower will be Mysuru's third tallest, after the 75-foot Silver Jubilee Clock Tower and the 70-foot tower at the University of Mysore. Its size and unique features are expected to draw significant attention, further enhancing Mysuru's reputation as a city of culture and history.

Dinesh Kumar suspended based on department report: Minister

Byrathi Suresh

Mysuru, Sept.8 (MTY&DM)- Urban Development Minister Byrathi Suresh addressed questions regarding the inaction against former Mysuru Urban Development Authority (MUDA) Commissioner D.B. Natesh, who is also allegedly involved in the MUDA scam while suspending another former MUDA Commissioner G.T. Dinesh Kumar.

"The immediate past MUDA Commissioner Dinesh Kumar was suspended following a departmental report that found prima facie evidence of wrongdoing," he told reporters at the Mysore Airport this morning.

Suresh clarified that Dinesh Kumar's suspension was not based on the report of the Justice P.N. Desai Commission, which was set up by the State Government to probe the large-scale MUDA scam.

He assured that no one involved in the scam would be shielded. Reiterating that all those found guilty will face punishment, the Minister said that the Desai Commission is investigating MUDA's improper allotment of alternative sites, having collected extensive documents, records, and files.

"The Government will take appropriate action once the Commission submits its report," he stated, reaffirming that no one implicated in the scam would be spared.

When questioned about former MUDA Chairman H.V. Rajiv allegedly allotting 848 sites illegally in a short span, Suresh claimed to not know the matter. Asked if Rajiv himself had acquired sites, he similarly said he was unaware.

He emphasised that the P.N. Desai Commission is conducting a detailed probe into the MUDA scam, and he will comment only after receiving further details. Suresh reiterated that the Government will act decisively once the Commission's report is submitted, and assured that all those implicated will face consequences.

CESC Chairman calls for flawless 21-day Dasara illumination

CESC Chairman Rameshbabu Bandisiddegowda addressing the meeting of State-approved Licenced Electrical Contractors Association at the CESC Head Office in Vijayanagar Second Stage on Thursday.

Mysuru, Sept.8 (PM&DM)- Chamundeshwari Electric Supply Corporation (CESC) Chairman Rameshbabu Bandisiddegowda urged officials and contractors to approach Dasara illumination with the mindset that Nadahabba Dasara is a celebration of the city's heritage.

Presiding over a meeting with office-bearers of the State-approved Licenced Electrical Contractors Association at the CESC Head Office in Vijayanagar Second Stage on Thursday, he emphasised the importance of enhancing the beauty of this year's illumination, which will last for 21 days.

Ramesh stressed the need for careful maintenance throughout the festival. "We should celebrate Dasara together, leaving no room for apathy or discord. Any contractor-related issues will be resolved amicably," he said while underscoring the need to ensure the beauty of the illumination remains consistent from day one to day 21.

Acknowledging that many tourists visit the city after the Jamboo Savari procession specifically to witness the spectacular lights, Ramesh pointed out that maintaining the illumination's beauty in the final 8-10 days could pose a challenge. Therefore, he called on officials and contractors to make necessary preparations well in advance to address any potential issues during the 21 days.

CESC Managing Director G. Sheela highlighted that this year's illumination will have a fresh and unique look. She highlighted the critical role of contractors in enhancing the grandeur of the lights while giving equal priority to safety and quality.

CESC Technical Director Munigopal Raju noted that expectations are higher this year as the scope and creativity of the illumination expand. He stressed the importance of completing bulb installations 3-4 days in advance to allow for trial runs and efficiency checks of the entire lighting circuit.

During the meeting, Association office-bearers presented their demands, and Ramesh directed CESC officials to ensure that no issues arise this year. CESC SE Sunil Kumar, Association State President R. Ramesh, and other officials were present at the meeting.

Auto gutted following LPG leakage

Mysuru, Sept. 8 (PM&KS)- An autorickshaw was completely gutted in the fire caused by leakage of LPG in the auto on Abba Road near Government Guest House on Friday evening.

The driver had taken the auto (KL-11-M-6697) to fill gas. But due to some technical issues the gas could not be filled and the driver was returning when the auto caught fire.

He immediately got down from the vehicle and within seconds flames engulfed the auto and was completely charred. Fire and Emergency Services personnel, led by Bannimantap Station Officer Mahesh, who rushed to the spot, managed to douse the fire.

These fines are automatically sent via SMS to the registered mobile numbers of vehicle owners, requesting payment. Despite notifications being received by most vehicle users, only around 5,500 have complied with their fines so far.

Policemen deployed

To tackle the issue, Police staff have been stationed at toll plazas such as the one near Srirangapatna (Gananguru village near K. Shettihalli) and at Bidadi (Kaniminike near Kumbalagodu) to enforce penalties on violating vehicles.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, Additional Director General of Police (ADGP) (Traffic and Road Safety) Alok Kumar stated that, in addition to the toll plazas, officers with hand-held devices have been deployed at key entry and exit points along the highway, such as near Kempegowda Circle in Mysuru (Manipal Hospital Junction).

"As of now, their strength is minimal but their numbers will increase soon. Moreover, we have also started enforcing penalties on violating vehicles found in other areas like the Outer Ring Road of Mysuru city," he said.

"On the hand-held devices, vehicle data will be updated in real-time. When a violating vehicle is captured by cameras, alerts with vehicle details are sent to the Traffic Management Centre. From there, the alerts are forwarded to staff equipped with hand-held devices at entry and exit points, as well as at toll plazas, to collect penalties directly. Vehicles will be stopped to collect fines," he explained.

"If a driver refuses to pay on the spot, they will need to settle the fine in Court. This applies to all vehicles, including Government ones. For multiple violations, notices will be issued demanding payment. Persistent non-payers will face Police action at their addresses, as physical penalty collections will be enforced rigorously," Alok Kumar added.

Besides overspeeding, the AI-powered cameras also capture other traffic violations such as not wearing seat belts, unruly lane changes and the use of mobile phones while driving. Apart from levying penalties for overspeeding, 411 FIRs were filed for speeding beyond 130 kmph on the Highway in August.

Kindness and compassion, of the misplaced kind?

A fortnight ago, I was shocked and shaken on reading the news that a seventy-six-year-old retired lady school teacher, who was on her morning walk, was brutally attacked by a pack of a dozen stray dogs and mauled to death. The helpless lady was bitten all over her body so severely, that she did not even make it to the nearby hospital, where she was quickly rushed, by some alert passersby. She was declared dead, upon arrival there.

Now, this ghastly incident did not happen in some remote rural area, ungoverned by a civic body, but in the heart of Jalahalli in Bengaluru, a city with a Municipal Corporation that is vested with the responsibility of ensuring the safety of all its tax-paying citizens.

And, this responsibility also includes the all-important but not so difficult job, of keeping its precincts free from stray animals like cattle, horses, pigs, donkeys and dogs. That most of our cities continue to be plagued by every one of these free-to-fend-for-themselves, stray animals, is a mute but shameful testimony to the appalling inefficiency with which our civic authorities are discharging their duties, for which they shamelessly collect hefty taxes and heftier salaries too!

I do not know what the reaction was from the family members of that poor lady, by way of taking legal action against the authorities for neglecting their duties, but I can fathom what shock, anguish and grief they must have gone through as a result of their horrific loss. Imagine a family member being literally torn apart and mauled to death by a pack of violent dogs.

And, also imagine what pain and agony the helpless lady must have gone through, before death came to her, actually as an angel of kindness and mercy, to end her pain! Incidents like these, of stray dogs attacking and biting people are sadly quite common place in all our towns and cities, although the one I'm talking about, stands out for its extreme severity and most tragic end.

The canine street choir!

No other animal shares the unique kinship with man that the dog enjoys and although people have kept all kinds of pets since prehistoric times, the dog undoubtedly continues to be the most favourite. But dog lovers should realise that their love for their pets and the strays should not mean that only dogs have all the rights to a peaceful and safe existence over the rights people who have to coexist with them. They should understand that people too have a right to a safe and unmolested existence.

The stray dog population of the world is estimated to be around 700 million and the ways in which civic authorities have been dealing with stray animals have thankfully seen much change over the years, even as my memory serves me.

Earlier, while stray dogs used to be dealt with by poisoning them, things have thankfully changed to more humane measures like just catching and sterilising them. This is being done with the very logical intention of preventing their proliferation, thus eventually eliminating their presence on the streets. Going by some very sane reasoning, this is a very effective measure that should work very well.

And, it has been working admirably well too in most other countries of the world, especially in places like Singapore, Great Britain and many European countries. The Netherlands has the unique distinction of being the country that can boast of a most successful stray dog management programme where it has managed to eliminate them without culling them, just by the sterilising method.

But what has worked admirably well in the Netherlands and elsewhere somehow seems to have failed to work most miserably, in our country. The only reason for this failure is not the high fertility of Indian stray dogs but the low sense of commitment on the part of our stray dog management programmes. That is why, while we do sometimes see our dog squads in action, catching and sterilising the strays and letting them out on the streets, we find our strays regularly littering on all our streets!

And, the most surprising and visible outcome of all this effort is that the sizes of their litters too only seem to be increasing. The dogs that used to have only three pups at a time, now seem to be having six, after undergoing government sponsored sterilisation! Because this dismal scenario does not seem to be changing for the better, I feel that it is better if we rethink a little and change our approach to the stray dog problem.

The first thing that needs to be done is to bring in legislation to ensure that all stray dogs, fertile or infertile are taken off the streets and all the pet dogs are always confined to the homes of their owners or always kept on a leash when taken out. Because we have a huge population of stray dogs and an equally huge population of people who claim to love them, it would be better if our authorities create facilities to keep them comfortable and look after them well.

Dog lovers and animal rights activists would then have a good chance to show their love for them by visiting these places and feeding them there and by also donating the money required for their upkeep and even supervise the programme to their satisfaction. I am sure they would not fail to do this because I see many dog lovers, even the ones who never own any dogs, regularly feeding stray dogs on our streets. A lady who has made it her mission to do good to them, has chosen to do it in my neighbourhood, over the past so many months.

Every evening, she comes unfailingly, with a young boy on a two-wheeler, with a bucketful of leftover food and feeds all the stray dogs, calling out lovingly to each one of them by the names she has given every one of them. People who know her have told me that she runs a paying guest facility and so she does not have to go in search of leftover food or in search of an easy way to dispose it off. The same people also tell me that she never dispenses her kindness in her own locality.

So, thanks to her kindness, while she enjoys a tranquil, stray dog-free life in her own neighbourhood, we have at least twenty robust and well-fed stray dogs in ours. Each passing day, they growl menacingly and chase and threaten every man, woman and child who passes through what has now become their territory.

Every morning, when I drive out of my home in my car, all twenty of them, chase my car and bid adieu to me with the cacophony of their barking, before deciding to turn back only after they have run a mile and after they have all run out of breath. That is when I heave a sigh of relief and thank my stars that I am inside my car and not outside!

And, by night, when there's no one on the streets to chase or harass, they adopt a different pastime. With their incessant howling, barking and brawling, they keep us all, the young, the old, the healthy and the sick, the tired and the sleepy, deprived of their much-needed sleep, all through the night.

That is perhaps the price man has to pay, for some compassionate people's misplaced love for the unowned, neighbourhood dog, which often ends up making man's existence, a dog's life!

Paris Paralympics-2024

Navdeep's javelin silver turns to gold, Simran Sharma wins 200m bronze

Paris, Sept. 8 (Agencies)- India's Navdeep Singh won gold medal in men's javelin F41 and Simran Sharma won bronze medal in women's 200m T12 race to take India's overall tally of medals to 29 at Paris Paralympics 2024 yesterday.

India's Navdeep Singh's silver medal was upgraded to gold after initial winner Iran's Sadegh Beit Sayah was disqualified for repeatedly displaying an objectionable flag following a dramatic men's javelin throw F41 final at the Paris Paralympics on Saturday.

This is India's first-ever gold medal in the men's javelin F41 category. The 23-year-old para-athlete from Haryana, who had finished fourth at the Tokyo Games three years ago, produced a personal best effort of 47.32m to claim the top position.

Navdeep, who competes in the classification meant for athletes of short stature, originally ended with a silver after he upstaged world record holder Sun Pengxiang of China with a 47.32m throw.

However, that was upgraded to an unprecedented gold after Sadegh's disqualification. Pengxiang (44.72m) finished with a silver.

Sayah had managed to nose ahead of the field with a new Paralympic record of 47.64m in his penultimate throw but lost the medal owing to his antics.

The International Paralympic Committee rules bar athletes from making any political gestures at the event and Sayah was thrown out of the final results for unsporting/ improper conduct.

Iraq's Nukhailawi Wildan, with 40.46m throw, claimed the bronze medal.

Meanwhile, on the track, India's Simran Singh took bronze in the women's T12 (for visually impaired) 200m, clocking a personal best time of 24.75secs.

Cuba's Omara Durand Elias took gold in 23.62 secs and Venezuela's Alejandra Paola Perez Lopez the silver (24.19s).

Simran had earlier finished fourth in the T12 100m.

Now, India stands at 16th position in the medals tally with a total of 29 medals including 7 gold, 9 silver and 13 bronze medals.

WORD OF THE DAY

Cuneiform

Pronunciation: kyoo nay uh fawm.
Meaning: Denoting or relating to wedge-shaped characters used in ancient writing systems of Mesopotamia, Persia and Ugarit, surviving on clay tablets.
Origin: The origins of cuneiform may be traced back approximately to the end of the 4th millennium BCE. At that time the Sumerians, a people of unknown ethnic and linguistic affinities, inhabited southern Mesopotamia and the region west of the mouth of the Euphrates known as Chaldea. While it does not follow that they were the earliest inhabitants of the region or the true originators of their system of writing, it is to them that the first attested traces of cuneiform writing are conclusively assigned. The earliest written records in the Sumerian language are pictographic tablets from Uruk (Erech), evidently lists or ledgers of commodities identified by drawings of the objects and accompanied by numerals and personal names. Such word writing was able to express only the basic ideas of concrete objects. Numerical notions were easily rendered by the repetitional use of strokes or circles. However, the representation of proper names, for example, necessitated an early recourse to the rebus principle — that is, the use of pictographic shapes to evoke in the reader's mind an underlying sound form rather than the basic notion of the drawn object.

THE ODD WORD

Callisteia

Awards given for beauty.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Comfort Food

Meaning: 'Comfort Food' is food that gives emotional comfort and provides a nostalgic or sentimental feeling to the person eating it. It's usually prepared in a traditional way and reminds the person of her childhood, family and friends.
Origin: The first known use of the term was in 1966 May edition of The New York Times, in a book by Theodore Isaac Rubin, 'The thin book by a formerly fat Psychiatrist': "Think thin... lose weight... learn about ammunition foods, comfort foods, and emergency foods."
Example: Jessie - "Every time I get upset, I ask my husband to make me a big bowl of Grandma's delicious creamy Mac & cheese and imagine myself sitting in her kitchen, with not a worry in the world." Emma - "Wow, that sounds like the perfect comfort food..."
